

A Sermon on God

Sermon by Rev. Minister Angela Smith of COPE for October 13th, 2024 (and beyond)

This sermon is in hypothetical scenario and question format for your meditative contemplation and consideration.

HYPOTHETICAL SCENARIO (& QUESTION): The human body is 9.5% hydrogen. Source: <https://biobeat.nigms.nih.gov/2015/07/elements-that-keep-us-alive-also-give-color-to-fireworks/> Hydrogen is 13.8 billion years old and/or ageless (as old as the universe). An anagram of Hydrogen is Hedon Gyr. A Hedon is "A unit of pleasure used to theoretically weigh people's happiness." and Greek in origin. Source: <https://en.wiktionary.org/wiki/hedon> Gyr means ring, circle, or spiral. Source: <https://www.merriam-webster.com/dictionary/gyr#:~:text=1,%3A%20gyroscope>

Do you believe it is possible that Hydrogen is God and that the anagram of it describes God accurately per the hypothetical? The measure of unending pleasure arguably.

NOTE: "A tally of unique compounds shows that more contain carbon than do not. A similar claim can be made for hydrogen because most organic compounds contain hydrogen chemically bonded to carbon or another common element like oxygen or nitrogen...The simplest form of an organic molecule is the hydrocarbon—a large family of organic molecules that are composed of hydrogen atoms bonded to a chain of carbon atoms. A hydrocarbon backbone can be substituted by other atoms, known as heteroatoms." Source: <https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Carbon>
